Dorchester resident Eli Alperwicz (right), grand-prize winner at TBH Arts Day, is congratulated by Marva Serotkin, President and CEO of The Boston Home.

Dorchester Resident Alperwicz Receives
Grand Prize at The Boston Home's Arts Day

Dorchester, MA — Dorchester resident Eli Alperwicz recently won the grand prize at The Boston Home's (TBH) At Home with the Arts Day in Dorchester, which attracted hundreds of local artists and community visitors who joined TBH residents. TBH is a long-term care facility for adults with physical disabilities, primarily Multiple Sclerosis and other progressive neurological diseases.

Participants enjoyed the gospel singing of Katani Sumner from the Boston Pops and poetry read by resident Al Gaines.

Founded in 1881, The Boston Home is a 96-bed, not-for-profit, long-term-care facility that serves adults with multiple sclerosis and other progressive neurological diseases. Now celebrating its 125th anniversary and offering an outpatient rehabilitation program, TBH is only facility of its kind in New England and one of a few in the United States. It has earned a national reputation for providing progressive, long-term care. For more information, visit www.thebostonhome.org.
