The Boston Home in Dorchester Receives Award From Harvard Medical School

Dorchester, Mass.—Sally Gorman, Coordinator of Volunteer Services for The Boston Home (TBH) in Dorchester, recently accepted Harvard Medical School’s Award for Outstanding Service on behalf of TBH. Dr. Joan V. Reede, Faculty Director, Office for Diversity and Community Partnership at Harvard Medical School, presented a $1,000 award in appreciation for TBH’s volunteer program. In particular, Harvard graduate Deirdre Garry, a three-year volunteer, contributed numerous hours and produced a video about the residents at TBH. The cash award will benefit the Activities Department at TBH.

“Volunteers like Deirdre are a key spoke in our home’s integrated wheel that helps to turn dreams into reality,” said Marva Serotkin, CEO at The Boston Home.

Founded in 1881, The Boston Home is a 96-bed, not-for-profit, long-term-care facility that serves adults with multiple sclerosis and other progressive neurological diseases. The only facility of its kind in New England and one of a few in the United States, The Boston Home has earned a national reputation for providing progressive long-term care.
