Marva Serotkin Named President-Elect of Codman Square Health Center Board

Dorchester, Mass.—Marva Serotkin, MPH, CEO of The Boston Home (TBH) in Dorchester, was recently named the president-elect for the Codman Square Health Center (CSHC) Board of Directors in Dorchester. TBH is a long-term care facility that serves adults with multiple sclerosis and other progressive neurological diseases.

“Marva possesses a keen intellect and knowledge of health care, which she combines with compassion for the people of our community. She was the unanimous choice of our community board,” said Bill Walczak, CEO of CSHC.”

The Codman Square Health Center is a community-based, ambulatory care and multi-service center that provides community services to address the medical, social, emotional and educational needs of adults and youth. CSHC serves more than 20,000 individuals in the Dorchester and Mattapan area.

“CSHC is a national leader,” said Marva Serotkin, “in promoting a healthy community through public health, health promotion and family-centered care. Our staff and my fellow board members are committed to leveraging resources to improve the health of our community.”

Founded in 1881, The Boston Home is a 96-bed, not-for-profit, long-term-care facility that serves adults with multiple sclerosis and other progressive neurological diseases. The only facility of its kind in New England and one of a few in the United States, The Boston Home has earned a national reputation for providing progressive long-term care.
