The Boston Home Adds Thomas Plante As Rehabilitation Program Manager

Boston, Mass.—The Boston Home recently added Thomas Plante as Rehabilitation Program Manager. The Boston Home in Dorchester is a long-term care facility for adults with physical disabilities, primarily multiple sclerosis and related neurological diseases.

Previously, Plant served as a senior therapist at Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital in Salem, NH. He has a B.S. degree in Physical Therapy from Northeastern University.

“The goal of the rehabilitation program is to promote the independence of residents in all areas of their lives: communication, personal comfort, creativity, recreation, mobility and access,” said Marva Serotkin, CEO of The Boston Home.

Founded in 1881, The Boston Home is a 96-bed, not-for-profit, long-term-care facility that serves adults with multiple sclerosis and other progressive neurological diseases. The only facility of its kind in New England and one of a few in the United States, The Boston Home has earned a national reputation for providing progressive long-term care.
